VOLUME 8. JANESVILLE, WIS., FRIDAY, APRIL 8, 1864. NUMBER 34.

Janesville Weekly Gazette.

TERMS PER YEAR, - - - $2,00.
IN ADVANCE.

THE edition of the GAZETTE is one of the largest weekly papers in the State. Having the matter published in the Daily to cull from in making it up, we are enabled to furnish a paper of surpassing excellence. We shall give in each number a correct review of the markets, and make the paper a complete reflex o County, State and general news.

IT IS almost impossible to take up a Democratic paper that does not charge the violent suppression of Copperhead journals upon the teachings of the Republican press. Could the aggregate testimony in these cases be presented, it would show that in nine cases out of ten some outrageous article appearing in the paper, and falling under the soldiers' eyes, prompted the assault. We have never read in a Republican paper an article counselling violence towards Copperheads by soldiers or others. It used, however, to be a common subject of mirth among Democrats, when a few years ago abolition lecturers were mobbed and their presses destroyed. The Democratic leaders uniformly recommended putting down abolitionists by force. It is not yet three years since the Free Press advocated mobbing Wendell Phillips in Detroit, and applauded the ruffians that mobbed him in Cincinnati. Some of the soldiers who now mob Copperhead papers doubtless commenced their lawlessness by mobbing abolitionists under Democratic lead some years ago.

[STATE NEWS.

The Jackson County Banner says that a young man named E. Camilton, aged about 19, was recently killed while working in a logging camp in that county. He was caught while unloading a load of logs, and the back of his head taken off. The same paper says a mill known as the "Wash Warren" mill was burned on the 17th ult. Loss $1,500.——Men and teams are advertised for to work on the railroad between Portage City and Columbus.——A black man who attempted to rob the house of Mr. C. T. Doissner, of Waukesha, was treated to a charge of buckshot from a gun in the hands of Mr. D's hired man who was lying in wait for the burglar. Served him right.——Two men, named McDonald and Clark were drowned recently by breaking through the ice between Green Bay and Depere.——R. C. Eden of the Oshkosh Northwestern, is raising a company to join the 37th Wis. ——The survey of the new town plat of Escanaba, on Bay de Marquet has been completed.——Wm. Tryon, a pressman in the office of the La Crosse Republican, had an arm badly smashed by the machinery of a press, a few days since.——The Beloit Journal says: On Thursday last, a man named Patrick Lyon was drowned in the race on the west side of the river. He was wheeling iron over the bridge by the foundary; across which was a gate wide enough to obstruct the passage of teams, but which would permit foot passengers to cross by going around the end. In attempting to wheel his barrow over this spot, he lost his balance, and fell in. He was seen, and every exertion was made to save him; but they were of no avail. He leaves a family.

☞—A writer in the Janesville GAZETTE says that city has contracted, since the the first of January last, $40,000 of new indebtedness—being at the rate of $13,333.33 per month. Going into business fast.—Beloit Journal.

Will the Journal tell us how much indebtedness hangs over its own city? According to popular belief, our neighbors have not only gone into business pretty fast in that line, but have gone out on other kinds about as fast as they went in on the first.

The Madison Patriot is mistaken when it says that in the recent Union State Convention "a delegate from Janesville denied that Gov. Randall lived in the second district, but insisted that he lived in Waukesha, the first district." The objection referred to was made by Jack Turner, of Columbia.

BIG THING.—Out of a vote of 450 in Beloit, at the last election, the democratic candidate for Mayor received 20. That stripe of politics seems to be at about as heavy a discount there as the confederate currency is at the South.

THE wife of Henry Clay died on the 6th inst., at the residence of her son, John M. Clay, in Lexington, Ky., at the age of 83.

—Placards containing the words "smallpox in this house," are seen on nearly every street in Covington. There are no signs of an abatement of the disease in the city.

GENERAL PARAGRAPHS.

—An Agricultural College is to be established in Massachusetts.

—The sales at the Methodist Book Concern last year amounted to $539,000.

—The Normal school in New Jersey is to be continued five years. So the Senate declares by vote.

—An old landmark in Providence, Rhode Island, the Pine street church, has been burned down. It was built in 1815.

—The colored people's Union League of Philadelphia held a meeting last week to honor the memory of Owen Lovejoy.

—Printers are scarce in Chicago. Many of the craft have taken up another sort of "shootingstick" and gone to the war.

—Mr. Pierce, collector for the Third Internal revenue district in Boston, reports a total six-months' tax receipts of $1,344,000.

—Over 22,000 Massachusetts soldiers have made allotments to their families during the past year, the sums amounting in the aggregate to $1,091,000.

—The Michigan Normal School has five hundred and six students. The state pays annually over half a million dollars for teachers' salaries in the public schools.

—The table and chair used by Washington at the time of resigning his commission are to be exhibited among the curiosities at the Maryland State Fair this month.

—The Springfield Armory pay-roll for January had 5,825 names upon it, and the total amount disbursed for that month was $173,040. This is an unprecedented figure.

—A model regiment is the Forty-ninth Ohio. For every furloughed veteran a new recruit has been added during their sojourn at home and the whole regiment has been made up from the personal acquaintance of the gallant Colonel Gibson.

—A movement is in progress for the erection of an Observatory on Mount Anthony, near Bonnington Centre, Vt., an old village of revolutionary days. The subscriptions already reach some fifteen hundred dollars. The shares are five dollars each.

—Two erring damsels at Youngstown, O., whose charms allured two married men from their families, were taken from their bed one night last week by a party of infuriated women stripped of the garments which women usually wear, arrayed in tar and feathers and let loose in the streets.

—Senator Hicks, of Maryland, has so far recovered from his late illness, and from the effects of the amputation of his ankle, as to enable him to be taken to his home, at Cambridge, Maryland. He is rapidly convalescing, and he hopes to resume his duties in the Senate before the close of the present session.

—The copperheaded women of Ohio say they are determined to make up the sum of fifty thousand dollars for the Vallandigham fund, so that the Ohio traitor can live ingloriously at his ease in Canada. Of the fifty thousand dollars, five thousand have been paid in!

—The Boston Traveler, speaking of the "hazing" of freshmen in Harvard College, very justly observes that the blackguard practical jokes played upon students "can be found in private schools and other assemblages of young men, but they are no" where found in assemblies of gentlemen.

—Two hundred and fifty rebel prisoners (Louisianians) at Indianapolis have written to Governor Hahn to say that the school of misfortune has taught them wisdom, and that they desire to take the oath and return to citizenship in Louisiana—especially now that it has become a free State.

—Rev J. S. C. Abbott of New Haven, who is writing a history of the rebellion, left home last week to take a six weeks' trip to the military posts on the Atlantic coast, from Fortress Monroe to Fernandina, Florida, in order to obtain an intimate knowledge of men and places made famous by the war.

—The City Clerk of Springfield Massachusetts, has exhumed from some old rubbish the "Springfield Towne" treasurer's book, containing a record of the receipts and disbursements of the town from January, 1665, to April, 1696. This is the oldest document, relating to town affairs that has been preserved.

Letter From Nashville.

Mrs. J. S. Colt, corresponding Secretary of the Wisconsin Soldier's Aid Society, has received the following in acknowledgment of the store of pickled potatoes which have been shipped and sent forward through the efficiency of the State Society and its auxiliaries. Can any one falter in this work when so much good is being accomplished:

U. S. SANITARY COMMISSION.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., March, 23d, 1864.

MRS. COLT—DEAR MADAM:

One consignment of your "pickled potatoes" reached here to-day. We had a barrel opened in the presence of a number of good judges, who pronounced the experiment a great success. The potatoes were in a fine state of preservation, and the spiced vinegar gives them a fine relish. We regard it here as the most valuable kind of vegetable diet ever furnished to an army, and such, I doubt not, will be the verdict of all the surgeons and soldiers in the army when it shall be tested by their experience.

Your Society deserve the thanks of the whole country for the excellent manner in which these potatoes were put up, and for furnishing a new and very palatable article of vegetable food which will do more than anything else to preserve the lives and health of our brave soldiers in the field.

One barrel of these potatoes will be worth more than ten eaten in the ordinary way—and then the vinegar will have the same curative effect as the potatoes pickled in it, and will be of great value. Your achievement is a simple one; but it will be splendid in its results. It will prevent disease and restore health to the sick. The blessing of those ready to perish will rest upon your Society, and this will be a rich reward—I am glad my own beloved Wisconsin has taken the lead in so noble an enterprise.

We are receiving letters every day from the front, urging us in the most earnest manner to send forward vegetables, to save the lives of the soldiers. We do all we can, and go to bed every night with hearts aching over sufferings we cannot relieve. I am rejoiced to hear that the friends of the soldier are doing so much in Wisconsin for their relief. We beseech them to keep on doing and to do more. Now is the crisis of the war. Let no man or woman at home be faint-hearted or inactive. The rebellion is in its last throes. Its expiring struggle will be desperate, but the friends of the Union should not relax their exertions or slacken their hands till it is dead and buried.

In a day or two I will copy and send to you some letters from regiments numerously signed, addressed to the Soldiers Aid Societies and to the ladies of the Northern States. The soldiers are thankful, and their thanks you shall read in their own language.

Very respectfully, your friend,
E. ROOT.

In answer to the above interesting letter, I beg all money for the next few weeks shall be spent in vegetables, pickles, eggs and butter. If the potatoes are very fine, barrel or box them, boring holes with an augur in the heads of the barrels and sides of the boxes. If not fine, pickle them.—Send to us any quantity, large or small, of onions and cabbage, and we will pickle them. The fine fresh potatoes we will send directly to the front, hoping a few boys may get a baked one—gold nuts to them.

Direct as usual. Write me, advising shipment. MRS. J. C. COLT,
Cor. Sec'y Wis. S. A. S.

LOCAL MATTERS.

The Bounty Question.

Messrs. Editors:—"Anti-Bounty" shows malignity if not courage, while he chooses to write from the ambush of an anonymous retreat—of course it will not do for me to even guess who he is—but were I to guess, I should say that the events of election day and the high-wrought hopes suddenly dashed to earth by the results thereof, were a sufficient apology for "Anti-Bounty" forgetting so insignificant a personage as he is pleased to regard my humble self.

Promising that I sent you my former note, not to share the glories of the bounty question, or arrogate to myself its responsibilities, but simply to meet the charge that I and others were "pecuniarily interested in its success;" a charge which I am credibly informed was industriously circulated at the polls; but which no one of the opposition has now the manliness to be responsible for, and promising further, that I was necessarily away from the city on election day, upon professional business, I will allow the smartness of Anti-Bounty's last communication to pass, without further note or comment, in the hope at least, that you and the public may be spared the further discussion of this dead issue.

O'Neil and Gardner's Minstrels.

This very excellent troupe gave their first performance in this city last evening, to a very good house, many ladies being present. The beautiful singing of Kathleen O'Neil was much admired, also the artistic dancing of M'lle Lezetta. Charley Gardner is an Ethiopian performer of the first water. In fact, he kept the house in a roar of laughter whenever he showed his face. Master George and Mr. Judge are very clever. The troupe have also a fine band accompanying them. We advise our readers to go and see them; if they do not they will miss a treat. Kathleen O'Neil's great song, "No Irish need apply," can be had at Darling's Music Store, and tickets for O'Neil & Gardner's Minstrels this evening can be obtained at the post office and music stores.

The "Great Rebellion."

Every preparation for the production of this splendid piece in our city is progressing upon a grand scale. The young ladies and gents are rehearsing daily to perfect themselves in their parts, as well as disposing of tickets to fill the house. As the piece is loyal and patriotic, and the object a good one—any one who will refuse to purchase a ticket of the young ladies may properly, we think, come under the head of seceesh. Secure your tickets in time. Tickets are limited to each evening.

MILLINERY GOODS, HATS, CAPS, etc.—Those who take pleasure in examining beautiful things in the way of millinery goods and an elegant assortment of hats and caps, can spend a pleasant hour in looking over the stock of Mrs. Beale, in her new store on Milwaukee street. Such "loves of hats!," and flowers and birds so natural that we feel inclined to try the perfume of the one and stop to listen to the song of the other. In fact no lady could desire a choicer collection to make a selection from.

Nor is her assortment of gentlemen's hats a whit behind that for the adornment of the other sex, as any one, who chooses to examine, will find. Mrs. B. is an energetic and tasty woman, and the public will find her establishment a good one to patronize.

ATTENTION is called to the new time table of the Galena & Chicago Union Railroad. The Road is now completed to Oregon, ten miles from Madison, and the cars will commence running to and from that place on Monday next. We learn the road will be completed to Madison by the first of July next.

THOMAS BARBECK will sell at his Auction Room, (three doors north of the American House, Janesville) on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. A fine assortment of household goods, carpets &c., at auction.

DIED.

In Bradford, of malignant erysipelas, on the 4th inst., JAMES W. SCOTT, aged 43 years.

The deceased was born at Ashford, in the county of Kent, England, but at an early age came to this country with his father's family, which settled near Geneva, N. Y. Nearly 20 years ago he removed with most of his kindred, to Rock Prairie, where he passed the remainder of his life on the same spot, beautiful by nature, and made much more so by his labor and taste. He was the youngest of four brothers, who, with their father and other relatives and friends of English birth or extraction, have lived on contiguous farms, presenting the hedges and much else of the beauty, neatness and thrift of English farming.

Mr. Scott was a faithful and exemplary man in all the relations of life, and he has left behind him a stricken widow and three orphaned children, his own aged parents, and a wide circle of other kindred and friends to mourn his untimely departure and revere his memory. But all mourn for him with hope, for he was a humble and devoted Christian. Being favored with a religious parentage and training, he was religious himself from his childhood, and he united with the church of Christ at the tender age of 14 years. He died in the communion of the Congregational church at Emerald Grove, in which he was a beloved member and Sabbath School teacher. The large and tearful gathering at the funeral evinced with regard to the deceased a general sense of appreciation and bereavement.—[Com.]

IMPROVING THE PUBLIC PARK.—The work of improving the park grounds progresses with commendable celerity considering the weather. A comparatively small judicious outlay will make these grounds very handsome. There should be some trees set out this spring.

—Of all the physicians devoted to speciality, there is not one more skillful and successful than Dr. V. C. Price, the Analytical Physician. On introducing his system of treatment, some six years ago, he met with severe opposition, but by energy, candor and skill, has won what he merits, the confidence and respect of community. We do not believe that Dr. Price would resort to dishonest acts to obtain patronage. If his motives were dishonest, he could not have met with encouragement and would ere this have ceased to visit us. His entire devotion to and extended experience in Chronic diseases give him advantages over those who treat all kinds of diseases. Throat, Lung, Liver, Heart, Kidney, Stomach and blood diseases, are among those complaints he so successfully treats.—Kalamazoo Gazette.

Dr. Price makes his next visit to Janesville, Hyatt House, during Saturday and Sunday the 30th of April and 1st of May.

Things to be Remembered.

First, That it is a positive business necessity to have your buildings, merchandize and other personal property insured against fire.

Second, That E. L. Dimock now has the agency of nearly all the Sound Old Eastern Insurance Companies that are represented in the west, and that the capital represented by these companies is sufficient to do all the insurance for Janesville and Rock County.

Third, That these companies are noted for adjusting losses fairly and paying them promptly.

Fourth, That E. L. Dimock has left a few more of those beautiful calendars for 1864, blotting pads and excise laws for distribution to customers.

THE EYE AND EAR.—Those afflicted in either of those delicate organs will do well to avail themselves of the opportunity now offered for obtaining relief by consulting Dr. Gardner, the skilful Oculist and Aurist, who is located at the Newhall House, Milwaukee, but who intends to visit Janesville for one week, commencing on Monday April the 11th until Saturday 16th, office at the Hyatt House, after that time will visit as occasion may require. The doctor brings testimonials of skill and ability in his profession of the highest character from medical men, and also from a number of patients, who unite in bearing unqualified testimony in his favor.

NAVIGATION OPEN TO CLEVELAND

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON April 7.—It is understood the Senate Military Committee to-day reported in secret session adversely on the nomination of Maj. Gen. Schofield.

A letter from the army of the Potomac says events of general importance have recently occurred.

WASHINGTON, April 7th.—Special to the World.—Gen. Burnside has gone west on a special mission for the purpose of raising negro troops in Kentucky. A dispatch from Louisville says several of Forrest's officers crossed the Ohio into Indiana and Illinois for the purpose of exciting people to revolt, others remained in Kentucky to help conspirators keep the flames of sedition alive. Forrest in his late raid secured several hundred Kentucky recruits. He is on the way to Corinth, and will, it is said, from thence, undertake, with reinforcements, a raid into Middle Kentucky, with the expectation of getting a large number of recruits. Others say he will join Longstreet and proceed into East Kentucky.

FROM RICHMOND.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Special to the Times.—Refugees from Richmond report Lee's army being largely augmented and he is expected to start the spring campaign with 80,000 or 90,000 troops. Conscripts arriving at Richmond are sent forward rapidly without delay.

The reports that the Richmond & Fredericksburg R. R. was taken up by rebels are pronounced untrue. It is the general understanding in Richmond that rebel leaders have concluded on a defensive line of operations this spring. The Federal War Department is about to weed out unemployed Generals to the number of 30 or 40 to make room for the promotion of others.

FROM FLORIDA.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Steamer Tioga arrived last night from Hilton Head. She brought the 7th Pennsylvania and detachments from several other regiments

Advices from Florida report a small skirmish, March 21st, near Pilatka between our pickets and rebel cavalry. The latter took to their heels in a short time. The gunboat Allona shelled them, but the result was unknown By means of a flag of truce, permission was obtained by Chaplain Chapman of the 69th New York to go to Tallahassee to ascertain the condition of our wounded in the hands of the enemy. Report says they are badly treated, especially colored soldiers. General Hadeth is temporarily in charge of the Florida district. General Seymour remains at Hilton Head for the present. Gen. Gilmore has been to Jacksonville and Fernandina, and has returned to Hilton Head. A few shell are occasionally sent to Charleston. The famous 300-pounder Parrott at Cummings' Point exploded after being fired 4615 times.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The champion billiard match between Kavanaugh and Tieman was won by the former in the 122d inning by a score of 1,500 against 1,265.

Further advices from Hilton Head report that a party of six or eight refugees from Charleston was picked up in a small boat by one of our blockaders.

The rebel rams on the stocks at Charleston are badly injured by our fire, which is directed against them whenever the weather is favorable for practice.

FROM CLEVELAND.

CLEVELAND, April 8.—A steamer arrived here from Dunkirk last evening. No ice in sight west of Dunkirk. The Erie Railway Steamer Co's boats will now commence their regular trips for the season.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

Destructive Fire at Alton!

LARGE SEIZURES OF COTTON!

FROM ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, April 8th.—A fire occurred an Alton, Ill., on Wednesday, consuming a warehouse on levee occupied by Simpson & Ketchum, filled with hay and other produce, and adjoining buildings occupied by Topping Bros., & Co., hardware, Calvin & Wepare auction store. Loss about $100,000. Insured $60,000.

The Democrat's Alexandria, La., dispatch says a large amount of cotton is being captured along Red river.

It is reported that several naval officials were captured while confiscating cotton.

Admiral Porter issued a circular to Captains, and owners of any boat in the employ of the government as a transport, if they will deliver boats to him he will award them every opportunity to recover their property, while if they burn them they will be a total loss.

FROM CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, April 7, 1864.—An extensive swindling operation came to light today. Two men named Bidwell and Kibbe, associated in the commission business, under the title of Bidwell & Co., were found to have absconded, after swindling many of our leading jewelers, hatters, hotels, furriers, &c., to the extent of four or five thousand dollars. It is supposed that their operations were on a grand scale, and that many merchants in other cities have been swindled. The scoundrels are thought to have gone to Chicago.

FROM CHATTANOOGA.

CHATTANOOGA, April 6, 1864.—The following General Order No. 5 is just issued from the Military Department of the Mississippi by and with the approval of the Commander-in-Chief of the armies of the United States.

The following changes are made, which will go into effect at once:

The 11th 12th Corps are hereby consolidated, and will compose the First Army Corps, Maj. Gen. Jo. Hooker commanding.

Gen. Slocumb is relieved from duty in the Army of the Cumberland, and will report in person to Maj. Gen. Jas. B. McPherson, commanding Department of Tennessee, for assignment to the command of the fortified points in the district of Vicksburg.

Second.—Maj. Gen. O. Howard is assigned to the command of the 4th corps. Maj. Gen. Gordon Granger is relieved from the command of that corps and from duty with the army of the Cumberland, to enable him to avail himself of a leave of absence heretofore granted him.

Third.—Maj. Gen. Schofield is assigned to the command of the 23d army corps, and Maj. Gen. Geo. Stonemrn is relieved from the command of that corps for assignment to the command of a special cavalry force to be organized under special instructions from headquarters to commanding Generals of the Army of Ohio.

Fourth.—Maj. Gen. Jno. Newton is assigned to duty with the Army of the Cumberland, and will report to Maj. Gen. Thomas at Chattanooga for assignment to duty according to his rank.

The commanding Generals of Departments will make all rules necessary to carry into effect these orders, and will make such distribution of the staff officers affected, and corps badges and other insignia, as in their judgment will result in the harmony and good of the service.

By order of Maj. Gen. W. F. Sherman.
R. M. SAWYER, A. A. G.

FROM BALTIMORE.

There is great rejoicing throughout the city to-day, by the colored people, over the result of the election yesterday. Soldiers, men, women and children, in large numbers paraded the streets. The majority of the Convention and Immediate Emancipation without Compensation will reach 8,000. The Union men in great slaveholding counties came up nobly, completely killing the pro-slavery vote.

There are sixty prisoners confined in the military prison here. They were arrested for corresponding with the South, blockade running, selling liquor to soldiers, using treasonable language, &c.

Over $10,000 worth of captured goods, intended by blockade runners for the rebels, will be sold at auction to-morrow by the U. S. Marshal.

FROM ARKANSAS.

FORT SMITH, Ark., April 6.—Gen. Steele's army has driven the rebels from Arkadelphia, and is now advancing on Price, in the direction of Camden and Washington. Several hundred rebels, under Cabell and other commanders, have come in behind our advancing columns on a raiding expedition.

Clarksville, sixty-five miles from here, was attacked day before yesterday, but the enemy were repulsed with a loss of three killed, ten prisoners, twenty horses, and all their camp equipage.

Yesterday 450 Texans, under Gen. Gano, attacked Rossville, 45 miles south of here, burning 300 bales of Government cotton.

Our troops afterwards drove the rebels from the town, killing and capturing several of them, the remainder of the cotton in that place being brought here, which will relieve the cavalry heretofore guarding it, and enable them to drive the guerrillas from the country.

—The City Clerk of Springfield Massa- chusetts, has exhumed from some old rub- bish the "Springfield Towne" treasurer's book, containing a record of the receipts and disbursements of the town from Jan- uary, 1665, to April, 1696. This is the oldest document, relating to town affairs that has been preserved.

Letter From Nashville.

Mrs. J. S. Colt, corresponding Secretary of the Wisconsin Soldier's Aid Society, has received the following in acknowledg- ment of the store of pickled potatoes which have been shipped and sent forward through the efficiency of the State Society and its auxiliaries. Can any one falter in this work when so much good is being ac- accomplished:

U. S. SANITARY COMMISSION.
NASHVILLE, TENN., March, 23d, 1864.

MRS. COLT—DEAR MADAM:

One consignment of your "pickled po- tatoes" reached here to-day. We had a barrel opened in the presence of a number of good judges, who pronounced the exper- iment a great success. The potatoes were in a fine state of preservation, and the spiced vinegar gives them a fine relish. We regard it here as the most valuable kind of vegetable diet ever furnished to an army, and such, I doubt not, will be the verdict of all the surgeons and soldiers in the army when it shall be tested by their experience.

Your Society deserve the thanks of the whole country for the excellent manner in which these potatoes were put up, and for furnishing a new and very palatable artic- cle of vegetable food which will do more than anything else to preserve the lives and health of our brave soldiers in the field.

One barrel of these potatoes will be worth more than ten eaten in the ordinary way—and then the vinegar will have the same curative effect as the potatoes pickled in it, and will be of great value. Your achievement is a simple one; but it will be splendid in its results. It will prevent disease and restore health to the sick. The blessing of those ready to perish will rest upon your Society, and this will be a rich reward—I am glad my own beloved Wis- consin has taken the lead in so noble an enterprise.

We are receiving letters every day from the front, urging us in the most earnest manner to send forward vegetables, to save the lives of the soldiers. We do all we can, and go to bed every night with hearts aching over sufferings we cannot relieve. I am rejoiced to hear that the friends of the soldier are doing so much in Wisconsin for their relief. We beseech them to keep on doing and to do more. Now is the crisis of the war. Let no man or woman at home be faint-hearted or in- active. The rebellion is in its last throes. Its expiring struggle will be desperate, but the friends of the Union should not re- lax their exertions or slacken their hands till it is dead and buried.

In a day or two I will copy and send to you some letters from regiments numerous- ly signed, addressed to the Soldiers Aid Societies and to the ladies of the Northern States. The soldiers are thankful, and their thanks you shall read in their own language.

Very respectfully, your friend,
E. ROOT.

In answer to the above interesting let- ter, I beg all money for the next few weeks shall be spent in vegetables, pickles, eggs and butter. If the potatoes are very fine, barrel or box them, boring holes with an augur in the heads of the barrels and sides of the boxes. If not fine, pickle them.— Send to us any quantity, large or small, of onions and cabbage, and we will pickle them. The fine fresh potatoes we will send directly to the front, hoping a few boys may get a baked one—gold dots to them.

Direct as usual. Write me, advising shipment.

Cor. Sec'y Wis. S. A. S.

The Bounty Question.

Messrs. Editors:—"Anti-Bounty" shows malignity if not courage, while he chooses to write from the ambush of an anonymous retreat—of course it will not do for me to even guess who he is—but were I to guess, I should say that the events of election day and the high-wrought hopes suddenly dashed to earth by the results thereof, were a sufficient apology for "Anti-Bounty" forgetting so insignificent a personage as he is pleased to regard my humble self.

Premising that I sent you my former note, not to share the glories of the bounty question, or arrogate to myself its respon- sibilities, but simply to meet the charge that I and others were "pecuniarily inter- ested in its success;" a charge which I am credibly informed was industriously cir- culated at the polls; but which no one of the opposition has now the manliness to be responsible for, and premising further, that I was necessarily away from the city on election day, upon professional business, I will allow the smartness of Anti-Bounty's last communication to pass, without furth- er note or comment, in the hope at least, that you and the public may be spared the further discussion of this dead issue.

O'Neil and Gardner's Minstrels.

This very excellent troupe gave their first performance in this city last evening, to a very good house, many ladies being pres- ent. The beautiful singing of Kathleen O'Neil was much admired, also the artis- tic dancing of M'lle Lezetta. Charley Gardner is an Ethiopian performer of the first water. In fact, he kept the house in a roar of laughter whenever he showed his face. Master George and Mr. Judge are very clever. The troupe have also a fine band accompanying them. We advise our readers to go and see them; if they do not they will miss a treat. Kathleen O'Neil's great song, "No Irish need ap- ply," can be had at Darling's Music Store, and tickets for O'Neil & Gardner's Min- strels this evening can be obtained at the post office and music stores.

The "Great Rebellion."

Every preparation for the production of this splendid piece in our city is progres- sing upon a grand scale. The young la- dies and gents are rehearsing daily to per- fect themselves in their parts, as well as disposing of tickets to fill the house. As the piece is loyal and patriotic, and the ob- ject a good one—any one who will refuse to purchase a ticket of the young ladies may properly, we think, come under the head of secesh. Secure your tickets in time. Tickets are limited to each evening.

MILLINERY GOODS, HATS, CAPS, etc.—Those who take pleasure in examining beauti- ful things in the way of millinery goods and an elegant assortment of hats and caps, can spend a pleasant hour in looking over the stock of Mrs. Beale, in her new store on Milwaukee street. Such "loves of hats!," and flowers and birds so natural that we feel inclined to try the perfume of the one and stop to listen to the song of the other. In fact no lady could desire a choicer collection to make a selection from.

Nor is her assortment of gentlemen's hats a whit behind that for the adornment of the other sex, as any one, who chooses to examine, will find. Mrs. B. is an ener- getic and tasty woman, and the public will find her establishment a good one to patronize.

ATTENTION is called to the new time ta- ble of the Galena & Chicago Union Rail- road. The Road is now completed to Ore- gon, ten miles from Madison, and the cars will commence running to and from that place on Monday next. We learn the road will be completed to Madison by the first of July next.

THOMAS BARBECK will sell at his Auc- tion Room, (three doors north of the Amer- ican House, Janesville) on Saturday mor- ning at 11 o'clock. A fine assortment of household goods, carpets &c., at auction.

DIED.

In Bradford, of malignant erysipelas, on the 4th inst., JAMES W. SCOTT, aged 43 years.

The deceased was born at Ashford, in the county of Kent, England, but at an early age came to this coun- try with his father's family, which settled near Geneva, N. Y. Nearly 20 years ago he removed with most of his kindred, to Rock Prairie, where he passed the re- mainder of his life on the same spot, beautiful by na- ture, and made much more so by his labor and taste. He was the youngest of four brothers, who, with their father and other relatives and friends of English birth or extraction, have lived on contiguous farms, pre- senting the hedges and much else of the beauty, neat- ness and thrift of English farming.

Mr. Scott was a faithful and exemplary man in all the relations of life, and he has left behind him a stricken widow and three orphaned children, his own aged parents, and a wide circle of other kindred and friends to mourn his untimely departure and revere his memory. But all mourn for him with hope, for he was a humble and devoted Christian. Being favored with a religious parentage and training, he was re- ligious himself from his childhood, and he united with the church of Christ at the tender age of 14 years. He died in the communion of the Congregational church at Emerald Grove, in which he was a beloved member and Sabbath School teacher. The large and tearful gathering at the funeral evinced with regard to the deceased a general sense of appreciation and bereave- ment.—[COM.]

IMPROVING THE PUBLIC PARK.—The work of improving the park grounds pro- gresses with commendable celerity consid- ering the weather. A comparatively small judicious outlay will make these grounds very handsome. There should be some trees set out this spring.

—Of all the physicians devoted to spe- ciality, there is not one more skillful and successful than Dr. V. C. Price, the Ana- lytical Physician. On introducing his sys- tem of treatment, some six years ago, he met with severe opposition, but by energy, candor and skill, has won what he merits, the confidence and respect of community. We do not believe that Dr. Price would re- sort to dishonest acts to obtain patronage. If his motives were dishonest, he could not have met with encouragement and would ere this have ceased to visit us. His en- tire devotion to and extended experience in Chronic diseases give him advantages over those who treat all kinds of diseases. Throat, Lung, Liver, Heart, Kidney, Stom- ach and blood diseases are among those complaints he so successfully treats.—Kal- amazoo Gazette.

Dr. Price makes his next visit to Janes- ville, Hyatt House, during Saturday and Sunday the 30th of April and 1st of May.

[Advertisement.]

Things to be Remembered.

First, That it is a positive business ne- cessity to have your buildings, merchan- dize and other personal property insured against fire.

Second, That E. L. Dimock now has the agency of nearly all the Sound Old Eastern Insurance Companies that are represented in the west, and that the capital represent- ed by these companies is sufficient to do all the insurance for Janesville and Rock County.

Third, That these companies are noted for adjusting losses fairly and paying them promptly.

Fourth, That E. L. Dimock has left a few more of those beautiful calendars for 1864, blotting pads and excise laws for dis- tribution to customers.

THE EYE AND EAR.—Those afflicted in either of those delicate organs will do well to avail themselves of the opportunity now offered for obtaining relief by consult- ing Dr. Gardner, the skilful Oculist and Aurist, who is located at the Newhall House, Milwaukee, but who intends to visit Janesville for one week, commencing on Monday April the 11th until Saturday 16th, office at the Hyatt House, after that time will visit as occasion may require. The doctor brings testimonials of skill and ability in his profession of the highest character from medical men, and also from a number of patients, who unite in bearing unqualified testimony in his fa- vor.

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE

Over the Post Office!

There is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE COMPANY!

Who take pleasure in placing their machines before the public, and unhesitatingly say they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenge machines of any and all manufactures to do as large a range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines. They make and have all the advantages of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion; the sewing of time in step- ping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

FOUR DIFFERENT STITCHES,

Any correspondence regarding our machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a letter stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.

NAVIGATION OPEN TO CLEVELAND

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON April 7.—It is understood the Senate Military Committee to-day re- ported in secret session adversely on the nomination of Maj. Gen. Schofield.

A letter from the army of the Potomac says events of general importance have re- cently occurred.

WASHINGTON, April 7th.—Special to the World.—Gen. Burnside has gone west on a special mission for the purpose of raising negro troops in Kentucky. A dispatch from Louisville says several of Forrest's officers crossed the Ohio into Indiana and Illinois for the purpose of exciting people to revolt, others remained in Kentucky to help conspirators keep the flames of sedi- tion alive. Forrest in his late raid secured several hundred Kentucky recruits. He is on the way to Corinth, and will, it is said, from thence, undertake, with reinforce- ments, a raid into Middle Kentucky, with the expectation of getting a large number of recruits. Others say he will join Long- street and proceed into East Kentucky.

FROM RICHMOND.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Special to the Tenes.—Refugees from Richmond report Lee's army being largely augmented and he is expected to start the spring campaign with 80,000 or 90,000 troops. Conscripts arriving at Richmond are sent forward rapidly without delay.

The reports that the Richmond & Fred- ericksburg R. R. was taken up by rebels are pronounced untrue. It is the general understanding in Richmond that rebel leaders have concluded on a defensive line of operations this spring. The Federal War Department is about to weed out un- employed Generals to the number of 30 or 40 to make room for the promotion of others.

FROM FLORIDA.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Steamer Tioga arrived last night from Hilton Head. She brought the 7th Pennsylvania and detach- ments from several other regiments

Advices from Florida report a small skirmish, March 21st, near Pilatka be- tween our pickets and rebel cavalry. The latter took to their heels in a short time. The gunboat Ottona shelled them, but the result was unknown. By means of a flag of truce, permission was obtained by Chap- lain Chapman of the 99th New York to go to Tallahassee to ascertain the condition of our wounded in the hands of the enemy. Report says they are badly treated, espe- cially colored soldiers. General Hadeth is temporarily in charge of the Florida dis- trict. General Seymour remains at Hil- ton Head for the present. Gen. Gilmore has been to Jacksonville and Fernandina, and has returned to Hilton Head. A few shell are occasionally sent to Charleston. The famous 300-pounder Parrott at Cum- mings' Point exploded after being fired 4615 times.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The champion billiard match between Kavanaugh and Tieman was won by the former in the 122d. inning by a score of 1,500 against 1,265.

Further advices from Hilton Head re- port that a party of six or eight refugees from Charleston was picked up in a small boat by one of our blockaders.

The rebel rams on the stocks at Charles- ton are badly injured by our fire, which is directed against them whenever the weath- er is favorable for practice.

FROM CLEVELAND.

CLEVELAND, April 8.—A steamer arri- ved here from Dunkirk last evening. No ice in sight west of Dunkirk. The Erie Railway Steamer Co's boats will now com- mence their regular trips for the season.

Destructive Fire at Alton!

LARGE SEIZURES OF COTTON!

FROM ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, April 8th.—A fire occurred an Alton, Ill., on Wednesday, consuming a warehouse on levee occupied by Simpson & Ketchum, filled with hay and other pro- duce, and adjoining buildings occupied by Topping Bros., & Co., hardware, Calvin & Wepare auction store. Loss about $100,- 000. Insured $60,000.

The Democrat's Alexandria, La., dis- patch says a large amount of cotton is be- ing captured along Red river.

It is reported that several naval officials were captured while confiscating cotton.

Admiral Porter issued a circular to Cap- tains, and owners of any boat in the em- ploy of the government as a transport, if they will deliver boats to him he will award them every opportunity to recover their property, while if they burn them they will be a total loss.

FROM CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, April 7, 1864.—An exten- sive swindling operation came to light to- day. Two men named Bidwell and Kib- be, associated in the commission business, under the title of Bidwell & Co., were found to have absconded, after swindling many of our leading jewelers, hatters, ho- tels, furriers, &c., to the extent of four or five thousand dollars. It is supposed that their operations were on a grand scale, and that many merchants in other cities have been swindled. The scoundrels are thought to have gone to Chicago.

FROM CHATTANOOGA.

CHATTANOOGA, April 6, 1864.—The follow- ing General Order No. 5 is just issued from the Military Department of the Mis- sissippi by and with the approval of the Commander-in-Chief of the armies of the United States.

The following changes are made, which will go into effect at once:

The 11th 12th Corps are hereby consoli- dated, and will compose the First Army Corps, Maj. Gen. Jo. Hooker command- ing.

Gen. Slocumb is relieved from duty in the Army of the Cumberland, and will re- port in person to Maj. Gen. Jas. B. Mc- Pherson, commanding Department of Ten- nessee, for assignment to the command of the fortified points in the district of Vicks- burg.

Second.—Maj. Gen. O. Howard is as- signed to the command of the 4th corps. Maj. Gen. Gordon Granger is relieved from the command of that corps and from duty with the army of the Cumberland, to en- able him to avail himself of a leave of ab- sence heretofore granted him.

Third.—Maj. Gen. Schofield is assigned to the command of the 23d army corps, and Maj. Gen. Geo. Stonemrn is relieved from the command of that corps for as- signment to the command of a special cav- alry force to be organized under special instructions from headquarters to com- manding Generals of the Army of Ohio.

Fourth.—Maj. Gen. Jno. Newton is as- signed to duty with the Army of the Cum- berland, and will report to Maj. Gen. Thomas at Chottanooga for assignment to duty according to his rank.

The commanding Generals of Depart- ments will make all rules necessary to car- ry into effect these orders, and will make such distribution of the staff officers affect- ted, and corps badges and other insignia, as in their judgment will result in the harmony and good of the service.

By order of Maj. Gen. W. F. Sherman.
R. M. SAWYER, A. A. G.

FROM BALTIMORE.

There is great rejoicing throughout the city to-day, by the colored people, over the result of the election yesterday. Soldiers, men, women and children, in large num- bers paraded the streets. The majority of the Convention and Immediate Eman- cipation without Compensation will reach 8,000. The Union men in great slavehold- ing counties came up nobly, completely killing the pro-slavery vote.

There are sixty prisoners confined in the military prison here. They were arrested for corresponding with the South, block- ade running, selling liquor to soldiers, us- ing treasonable language, &c.

Over $10,000 worth of captured goods, intended by blockade runners for the reb- els, will be sold at auction to-morrow by the U. S. Marshal.

FROM ARKANSAS.

FORT SMITH, Ark., April 6.—Gen. Steele's army has driven the rebels from Arkadel- phia, and is now advancing on Price, in the direction of Camden and Washington. Several hundred rebels, under Cabell and other commanders, have come in behind our advancing columns on a raiding expe- dition.

Clarksville, sixty-five miles from here, was attacked day before yesterday, but the enemy were repulsed with a loss of three killed, ten prisoners, twenty horses, and all their camp equipage.

Yesterday 450 Texans, under Gen. Gano, attacked Rossville, 45 miles south of here, burning 300 bales of Government cotton.

Our troops afterwards drove the rebels from the town, killing and capturing sev- eral of them, the remainder of the cotton in that place being brought here, which will relieve the cavalry heretofore guard- ing it, and enable them to drive the guer- rillas from the country.

THE DEAD.

(For the Janesville Gazette.)

I love to wander where they sleep
Within the silent grave,
And dream of those who slumber there
Beneath the willow's shade;
I love to walk the narrow aisles
That pass amid the dead,
And read the lines engraved upon
The tombstones at their head.

I stood beside an infant's grave,
And read the name, the age,
That's graven on some mother's heart,
Which time will ne'er efface;
I stooped to kiss the fragrant flowers
Nurtured by loving care,
Feeling it would be sacrilege
To pluck a blossom there.

I lingered by the maiden's tomb,
Whose heart is pulseless now,
Whose hands are clasped upon her breast,
With death damp on her brow;
I thought of friends who doubtless mourn
The loved one sleeping low,
Beneath the summer's scented flowers,
Beneath the winter's snow.

I stood, and gazed upon the turf
On manhood's bosom thrown,
And thought with grief of those bright hopes
Which with his life had flown;
I wondered if a father's heart
Was mourning now for him,
And if within a darkened room
A mother's eyes were dim.

And, passing on, a crumbling stone
My roving footsteps stayed,
And bending low I read with tears
The record of the aged,—
Whose life had been through long, long years
One ceaseless scene of strife,
With but the hope of peace above
To cheer his weary life.

I paused beside a new made grave
And read the tablet o'er,
And saw that on the polished slab
A soldier's name it bore,—
Who fell upon the battle field
Where countless thousands lie,
To sleep their last and dreamless sleep
Beneath the starlit sky.

Upon a monumental pile
I read engraved with care,
The name and lengthy epitaph
Of him who slumbered there;
I wondered if he'd sooner rise
To heaven's eternal throne,
Because the chiseled marble said
He there had gained a home.

I paused beside a narrow mound
No sculptured tablet told
Who there was sleeping at my feet,
Beneath earth's silent mould;
And there I knelt and breathed the prayer
Above that nameless dust,
That God would grant the poor man's soul
A place amid the just.

EDNA BELL.

NORTH MONROE, New Hampshire.

THE WIFE'S SAVINGS BANK.

Charles Lynford was a good mechanic, in a prosperous business. At the age of twenty-six he had taken to himself a wife, Caroline Eustice, the daughter of a neighbor, who had nothing to bring him but her own personal merits, which were many, and habits of thrift, learned in an economical household, under the stern teachings of necessity.

It was well, perhaps, that Charles Lynford should obtain a wife of this description, as he himself found it very difficult to save anything from his income.

It was not long before Caroline became acquainted with her husband's failings. She could not feel quite easy in the knowledge that they were living fully up to their income, forseeing that a time, would come when their family would be more expensive, and perhaps her husband's business, though now flourishing, might become less so.

Accordingly, one day, she purchased, from a tin peddler who came to the door, a little tin safe, such as children frequently use as savings banks. This she placed quite conspicuously on the mantlepiece, so that her husband might be sure to see it on entering.

"Halloa, Carrie, what's that, eh?" he asked, curiously.

"Only a little purchase I made to-day." said his wife.

"But what is it meant for?" he asked again.

"Let me illustrate," said his wife playfully. "Have you a ten cent piece about you?"

Charles drew a dime from his waistcoat pocket. His wife, taking it from his hand, dropped it into the box through the little slit at the top. Charles laughed.

"So you have taken to hoarding, Carrie? My wife become a miser?"

"No, only a little prudent. But, seriously, Charles, that is precisely what I want you to do every night."

"What? drop a dime into this new-fangled arrangement of yours?"

"Exactly."

"Very well, that will be easy enough. A dime is no great harm. But may I know what you are going to do with this newly commenced hoard?"

"Lay it by for a rainy day," answered Caroline.

Charles laughed heartily.

This ended the conversation for a time.

The plan thus inaugurated by the young wife was steadily carried out. She was not one of those who enter upon a plan zealously, but soon tire of it. In the present case she was fully satisfied of the wisdom of her purpose, and resolved to carry it through. Every morning she called upon her husband for a dime, and every morning it was added to the accumulation. Frequently he had not the right change, but would toss her a quarter of a dollar instead. She would assure him, laughingly, that it would answer her purpose just as well.

More than once Charles bantered her on the subject of her savings bank. This she bore quite gallantly.

But these were not the accessions the fund received. Her husband had early arranged to make her an ample allowance for dress, I say ample, though I dare say some of our city readers might not have considered it so; but Caroline, who was in the habit of making her own dresses, provided herself with a good wardrobe at much less expense than some not so well versed in the science of managing could have done.

After considerable calculation she came to the conclusion that out of her allowance she should be able to make a daily deposit equal to that she had exacted from her husband. Of this, however, she thought it best on the whole not to inform Charles, enjoying in anticipation the prospect of being able at some future time, to surprise him with the unexpected amount of her savings.

At the close of every month the tin box was emptied, and the contents transferred to a savings bank of more pretensions, where interest would be allowed.

When the sums deposited there became large enough, Mrs. Lynford, who had considerable business capacity, withdrew them and invested in other stocks, which would yield a larger per cent. Of her mode of management her husband was in complete ignorance. Nor did he even express any desire to be made acquainted with his wife's management. He was an easy, careless fellow, spending as he went, enjoying the present, and not giving any particular concern to the future.

At the end of eight years, during which time he had been unusually favored by prosperity in business and uninterrupted health, his books showed that he had not exceeded his income, but that, on the other hand, he had absolutely saved nothing. Twenty-five cents stood to his credit.

"Running pretty close, ain't it Carrie? I take credit to myself, though, for keeping on the right side of the line. But, then, I suppose you have saved up an immense sum?"

"How much do you suppose?" asked his wife.

"Perhaps a hundred dollars," said Charles Lynford, carelessly, "though it would take a good many dimes to make that."

His wife smiled, but did not volunteer to enlighten him as to the correctness of his conjecture.

So things went on, till at length came the panic of 1857, a panic so recent that it will be remembered how universally trade and business of every kind were depressed at this period; among others the trade which occupied Charles Lynford suffered much.

One evening he came home looking quite serious, an expression which seldom came over his cheerful face.

Caroline who had watched all the signs of the times, was not unprepared to see this. She suspected that her husband's business was affected. "What is the matter, Charles?" she asked quite cheerfully.

"The matter is, that we will have to economize greatly."

"Anything unfavorable turned up in business matters?"

"I should think there had. I will have but half a day's work for some time to come, and I am afraid that even this will fail before long. You haven't an idea, Carrie, how dull every kind of business has become."

"I think I have," said his wife quietly. "I have read the papers carefully, and have been looking out for something of this kind."

"Do you think we can reduce our expenses one half?" asked the husband doubtfully.

"I think we will be able to do so. Both of us are well supplied with clothing, and will not need any more for a year at least. This will cut off considerable expense. Then there are a great many little superfluities you are kind enough to bring home to me frequently, which I can do very well without. Then we can live more plainly, have less pies and cakes, and I have no doubt it will be an improvement as far as health is concerned."

"What a calculator you are, Carrie," said her husband, feeling considerably easier in mind. "I really think, after all you have said, that it won't be hard to live on half of our usual income, for the present at least. But," and his countenance again changed, "suppose my work should entirely fail—I suppose you couldn't reduce our expenses to nothing at all, could you?"

"That certainly supasses my powers," said his wife, smiling; "but even in that case there is no ground for discouragement. You have not forgotten our savings bank, have you?"

"Why no, I didn't think of that," said her husband. "I suppose that would keep off starvation for a few weeks."

His wife smiled.

"And in those few weeks," she added, "business might revive."

"To be sure," added her husband. "Well, I guess it will be all right, I will try and not trouble myself about it any longer."

The apprehensions to which Charles Lynford gave expression proved to be only too well founded. In less than a month from the date of the conversation just recorded, the limited supply of work he had been able to secure failed and he found himself without work of any kind, thrown back upon his own resources.

Although he anticipated this, it seemed unexpected when it really did come upon them.

"And the worst of it is," he added, "there will be no better time till spring."

"Do you think that the business will revive then?"

"It must by that time. But there are five or six months between. I do not know how we are going to live during that time."

"I do," his wife quietly replied.

"You!" exclaimed her husband in surprise.

"Yes; your income has never been more than six or seven hundred dollars a year, and I have no doubt we can live six months on two hundred and fifty dollars."

"Yes, certainly; but where is that money to come from? I don't want to get in debt, and if I did I should not know where to borrow."

"Fortunately, there is no need of it," said Mrs. Lynford. "You seem to forget our little savings bank."

"But is it possible it can amount to two hundred and fifty dollars?" he asked in surprise.

"Yes, and six hundred more" replied his wife.

"Impossible!"

"Wait a minute, and I'll prove it."

Caroline withdrew a moment, and re-appeared with several certificates of bank and railroad shares, amounting to eight hundred dollars, and a book in which the balance was deposited to her credit.

"Are you sure you haven't had any legacy?" demanded Charles, in amazement. "Surely, a dime a day would not produce this?"

"No, but two dimes a day have, with a little extra deposit now and then. I think, Charles, that we can ward off starvation for a time."

"All this I owe to your prudence," said Charles, gratefully. "How can I repay you?"

Charles Lynford remained out of employment for some months. The next spring, as he had anticipated, business revived, and he was once more in receipt of his old income. More than two-thirds of the fund was still left, and henceforth Charles was not less assiduous than his wife in striving to increase it.

The little tin savings band still stands on the mantelpiece, and never fails to receive its deposit daily.

THE RECOGNITION OF THE SOUTH IMPOSSIBLE.—A late Paris letter contains the following important paragraph: "In all the din of doinestic commotion the late manifesto of the Southern Congress has not been lost upon the Parisian observers of trans-atlantic affairs. The Opinion Nationale says of it: 'Never until now, has the government at Richmond proclaimed, in the face of the world, that the principal object of the separation was the establishment of an independent state, with slavery as the basis of its social edifice. In holding this language, the Congress at Richmond renders the recognition of the South forever impossible.'"

—The Palmetto (S. C.) Herald says: "Nothing has been done towards raising the Weehawken, and it is doubtful if any measures will ever be taken to rescue her from the shifting sands in which she lies imbedded, 30 feet below the water's surface. The task of removing such an enormous weight, at so great disadvantages, is one which neither Government nor contractors will willingly undertake. The varying currents where she sank will fix her there immovably. The Keokuk, which went down on the morning of the 8th of April last, will also probably never be brought up."

Scandal in Youngstown, Ohio--Two Women Tarred and Feathered by other Women.

From the Cleveland Herald, Wednesday.

Some eight or ten years since an iron manufacturer of Youngstown, who stood high in rank among business men, and was reported to be wealthy, suddenly disappeared, leaving his wife and family, and taking with him an unmarried woman with whom it was alleged, he had been on terms of two great intimacy. After his departure, his affairs were examined, and found to be in a hopeless confusion, his estate bankrupt and that he probably decamped with from thirty to forty thousand dollars.

The interesting pair were traced to New York, where the iron manufacturer was found to have secured a passage for himself and the woman to England. As the steamer was about leaving, he got on board, leaving the partner of his flight on shore. The steamer suddenly left the dock and set out on her voyage, fulfilling the scriptural saying that "one shall be taken and the other left." The luckless female beckoned to the departing steamer in vain, and she was compelled to return in sorrow and shame to Youngstown, where she took up her residence with her sister.

On Monday of last week a prominent lawyer of Youngstown suddenly left his home and the wife of his bosom, coming to Cleveland and going to Pittsburg. By a curious coincidence, the sister of the woman whose journey to New York some years ago had ended so unfavorably, left about the same time as the lawyer, and also went to Pittsburg, via Cleveland. Inquiries led to the disclosure of facts that warranted the belief that the lawyer and his inamorata were enacting a second edition of the adventures of the iron manufacturer and her sister.

The deserted wife, on learning the facts, picked up her household goods, and sought refuge with her parents, realizing the truth of the assertion that

Oaths are straws, men's faiths are water-cakes.

On Saturday of last week, the female fugitive, to carry out in all points the resemblance to her sister's history, suddenly returned to Youngstown, and the sisters again lived together. This was too much for the virtue of Youngstown. It was bad enough for them to carry misery into two households, but to return in triumph to the scene of the ruin they had caused, and where they might carry their mischief into other families, was too much to be borne.

So the good wives of Youngstown meditated revenge for their wrongs, past, present and prospective.

On Monday night last, whilst the erring damsels were locked in the embrace of Morpheus—that very improper person who is no respecter of beds—a posse of infuriated females, with blackened faces and disguised habiliments, suddenly entered the sleeping chamber, and dragged the sleeping beauties from their couch. The clothes of the offending damsels were torn to shreds, and themselves reduced, as far as physical condition went, to the state in which Eve appeared before she learned the dressmaking business. Then they were attired in close fitting garments of tar and and feathers, and sent into the streets to startle the night-walking cats with their extraordinary appearance.

Considerable excitement exists in Youngstown about the matter, and what will be the result of the affair remains to be seen.

A Norwegian Dance.

Round the musician the young men and maidens formed a ring and began to dance. There was little talking, and that little was in an undertone. They went to work with the utmost gravity and decorum. Scarcely a laugh was heard—nothing approaching to a shout during the whole night; nevertheless, they enjoyed themselves thoroughly—I have no doubt whatever of that. The nature of their dances was somewhat incomprehensible. It seemed as if the chief object of the young men was to exhibit their agility by every species of impromptu bound and fling of which the human frame is capable, including the rather desperate feat of dashing themselves flat upon the ground. The principal care of the girls seemed to be to keep out of the way of the men and avoid being killed by a frantic kick or felled by a random blow. But the desperate postures in each dance did not appear at first. Every man began by seizing his partner's hand, and dragging her around the circle—ever and anon twirling her around violently with one arm, and catching her around the waist with the other—in order as it appeared to me, to save her from an untimely end. To this treatment the fair damsels submitted with pleased, though bashful looks. But soon the men flung them off, and went it entirely on their own account; yet they kept up a sort of revolving round their partners, like satellites round their separate suns. Presently, the satellites assumed some of the characteristics of the comet. They rushed about the circle in wild, erratic courses—they leaped into the air, and, while in that position, slapped the soles of their feet with both hands. Should any one deem this an easy feat, let him try it. Then they became a little more sane, and a waltz—or something like it was got up. It was really pretty, and some of the movements were graceful; but the wild spirit of the glens re-entered the men rather suddenly. The females were expelled from the ring altogether, and the youths braced themselves for a little really heavy work; they flung and hurled themselves about like maniacs, stood on their heads, and walked on their hands—in short, became a company of acrobats—yet always kept up a sympathetic feeling for the time with the music.

INSURE WITH THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF WISCONSIN—IT IS THE BEST COMPANY FOR WESTERN MEN!—The reasons why this is the best Company, are: That it is a Western Company, made up of and managed by Western men, doing all or nearly all its business in the Northwest, and concentrating in this one Company a superior class of risks, mostly of young men, or men in the prime of life, and they selected with as great care in regard to eligibility to Life Insurance, as are the risks of any other company.

It is true that the Company has neither the age nor the accumulations of some eastern companies, but is gaining the latter very fast; is vigorous for one of its age; is doing a large business, having issued 637 policies in the months of December and January just passed, and is doing its business as economically as the same can be done anywhere. It has for its guide, the experience of all older companies, and among its managers some of the best business men in the northwest.

This is the first successful effort ever made to build up a similar institution in the West, and it should be the pride, as it certainly is the interest, of every business man in this section of the State, to identify himself with its growth.

This Company issues non-forfeiting policies, upon which premiums are paid in five or ten annual payments. These non-forfeiting policies are very desirable, as they guarantee to the policy holder the benefit of all the money that he pays into the Company, and also enable him to pay his premiums for the whole of life while he is young, or at an early period, thus relieving him from the burden of payment in old age. Insurance upon this plan, (as well as on all other policies that this Company issues) become due and payable at death, should death occur before the ten years expire.

It also issues the endowment policy which becomes due and payable to the party assured at a stated age specified. These latter policies are becoming quite popular, and are particularly desirable for young men.

HYATT'S IMPROVED
Knife & Scissors Sharpener!
An unequaled instrument for sharpening all kinds of
House Knives, Shears and Scissors.
This Machine is especially adapted to the wants of Houses, Hotels, Saloons and Shops.
The principle on which the machine is constructed, and the rapidity, ease and excellence of its operation, have never before been combined in an instrument to sharpen edge tools.
The Grinding wheels are made of a solid composition of emery, and hence not only grind rapidly but are very durable, and being used with water, cannot affect the temper of a blade.
The principle on which it operates—that of grinding both sides simultaneously—is an entirely new one and superior to all others, making it not only rapid in its operation, but requiring comparatively no skill in its use, and insuring a perfectly uniform edge, beveled alike on both sides, and of the best possible angle for cutting.
In sharpening Shears and Scissors each blade is necessarily ground exactly to the same bevel, and a keen, smooth cutting edge is obtained. In this respect, as well as in sharpening knives, the machine is altogether superior to anything ever brought before the public, and is certain to give complete satisfaction to all who use it.
Having the exclusive right to sell these machines in this county, I shall call upon the citizens generally to introduce it to their notice. They can also be seen at N. J. Dearborn's grocery store, corner of Milwaukee and Main streets. WM. BOOTH.

THE DEAD.

[For the Janesville Gazette.]

I love to wander where they sleep
Within the silent grave,
And dream of those who slumber there
Beneath the willow's shade;—
I love to walk the narrow aisles
That pass amid the dead,
And read the lines engraved upon
The tombstones at their head.

I stood beside an Infant's grave,
And read the name, the age,
That's graven on some mother's heart,
Which time will ne'er efface;
I stooped to kiss the fragrant flowers
Nurtured by loving care,
Feeling it would be sacrilege
To pluck a blossom there.

I lingered by the maiden's tomb,
Whose heart is pulseless now,
Whose hands are clasped upon her breast,
With death damp on her brow;
I thought of friends who doubtless mourn
The loved one sleeping low,
Beneath the summer's scented flowers,
Beneath the winter's snow.

I stood, and gazed upon the turf
On manhood's bosom thrown,
And thought with grief of those bright hopes
Which with his life had flown;
I wondered if a father's heart
Was mourning now for him,
And if within a darkened room
A mother's eyes were dim.

And, passing on, a crumbling stone
My roving footsteps stayed,
And bending low I read with tears
The record of the ag'd,—
Whose life had been through long, long years,
One ceaseless scene of strife,
With but the hope of peace above
To cheer his weary life.

I paused beside a new made grave
And read the tablet o'er,
And saw that on the polished slab
A soldier's name it bore,—
Who fell upon the battle field
Where countless thousands lie,
To sleep their last and dreamless sleep
Beneath the starlit sky.

Upon a monumental pile
I read engraved with care,
The name and lengthy epitaph
Of him who slumbered there;
I wondered if he'd rather rise
To heaven's eternal throne,
Because the chiseled marble said
He there had gained a home.

I paused beside a narrow mound
No sculptured tablet told
Who there was sleeping at my feet,
Beneath earth's silent mould;
And there I knelt and breathed the prayer
Above that nameless dust,
That God would grant the poor man's soul
A place amid the just.

NORTH MONROE, New Hampshire.

THE WIFE'S SAVINGS BANK.

Charles Lynford was a good mechanic, in a prosperous business. At the age of twenty-six he had taken to himself a wife, Caroline Eustice, the daughter of a neighbor, who had nothing to bring him but her own personal merits, which were many, and habits of thrift, learned in an economical household, under the stern teachings of necessity.

It was well, perhaps, that Charles Lynford should obtain a wife of this description, as he himself found it very difficult to save anything from his income.

It was not long before Caroline became acquainted with her husband's failings. She could not feel quite easy in the knowledge that they were living fully up to their income, forseeing that a time would come when their family would be more expensive, and perhaps her husband's business, though now flourishing, might become less so.

Accordingly, one day, she purchased, from a tin peddler who came to the door, a little tin safe, such as children frequently use as savings banks. This she placed quite conspicuously on the mantlepiece, so that her husband might be sure to see it on entering.

"Halloa, Carrie, what's that, eh?" he asked, curiously.

"Only a little purchase I made to-day." said his wife.

"But what is it meant for?" he asked again.

"Let me illustrate," said his wife playfully. "Have you a ten cent piece about you?"

Charles drew a dime from his waistcoat pocket. His wife, taking it from his hand, dropped it into the box through the little slit at the top. Charles laughed.

"So you have taken to hoarding, Carrie? My wife become a miser?"

"No, only a little prudent. But, seriously, Charles, that is precisely what I want you to do every night."

"What? drop a dime into this new-fangled arrangement of yours?"

"Exactly."

"Very well, that will be easy enough. A dime is no great harm. But may I know what you are going to do with this newly commenced hoard?"

"Lay it by for a rainy day," answered Caroline.

Charles laughed heartily.

This ended the conversation for a time.

The plan thus inaugurated by the young wife was steadily carried out. She was not one of those who enter upon a plan zealously, but soon tire of it. In the present case she was fully satisfied of the wisdom of her purpose, and resolved to carry it through. Every morning she called upon her husband for a dime, and every morning it was added to the accumulation. Frequently he had not the right change, but would toss her a quarter of a dollar instead. She would assure him, laughingly, that it would answer her purpose just as well.

More than once Charles bantered her on the subject of her savings bank. This she bore quite gallantly.

But these were not the accessions the fund received. Her husband had early arranged to make her an ample allowance for dress, I say ample though I dare say some of our city readers might not have considered it so; but Caroline, who was in the habit of making her own dresses, provided herself with a good wardrobe at much less expense than some not so well versed in the science of managing could have done.

After considerable calculation she came to the conclusion that out of her allowance she should be able to make a daily deposit equal to that she had exacted from her husband. Of this, however, she thought it best on the whole not to inform Charles, enjoying in anticipation the prospect of being able at some future time, to surprise him with the unexpected amount of her savings.

At the close of every month the tin box was emptied, and the contents transferred to a savings bank of more pretensions, where interest would be allowed.

When the sums deposited there became large enough, Mrs. Lynford, who had considerable business capacity, withdrew them and invested in other stocks, which would yield a larger per cent. Of her mode of management her husband was in complete ignorance. Nor did he even express any desire to be made acquainted with his wife's management. He was an easy, careless fellow, spending as he went, enjoying the present, and not giving any particular concern to the future.

At the end of eight years, during which time he had been unusually favored by prosperity in business and uninterrupted health, his books showed that he had not exceeded his income, but that, on the other hand, he had absolutely saved nothing. Twenty-five cents stood to his credit.

"Running pretty close, ain't it Carrie? I take credit to myself, though, for keeping on the right side of the line. But, then, I suppose you have saved up an immense sum?"

"How much do you suppose?" asked his wife.

"Perhaps a hundred dollars," said Charles Lynford, carelessly, "though it would take a good many dimes to make that."

His wife smiled, but did not volunteer to enlighten him as to the correctness of his conjecture.

So things went on, till at length came the panic of 1857, a panic so recent that it will be remembered how universally trade and business of every kind were depressed at this period; among others the trade which occupied Charles Lynford suffered much.

One evening he came home looking quite serious, an expression which seldom came over his cheerful face.

Caroline who had watched all the signs of the times, was not unprepared to see this. She suspected that her husband's business was affected. "What is the matter, Charles?" she asked quite cheerfully.

"The matter is, that we will have to economize greatly."

"Anything unfavorable turned up in business matters?"

"I should think there had. I will have but half a day's work for some time to come, and I am afraid that even this will fail before long. You haven't an idea, Carrie, how dull every kind of business has become."

"I think I have," said his wife quietly, "I have read the papers carefully, and have been looking out for something of this kind."

"Do you think we can reduce our expenses one half?" asked the husband doubtfully.

"I think we will be able to do so. Both of us are well supplied with clothing, and will not need any more for a year at least. This will cut off considerable expense. Then there are a great many little superfluities you are kind enough to bring home to me frequently, which I can do very well without. Then we can live more plainly, have less pies and cakes, and I have no doubt it will be an improvement as far as health is concerned."

"What a calculator you are, Carrie," said her husband, feeling considerably easier in mind. "I really think, after all you have said, that it won't be hard to live on half of our usual income, for the present at least. But," and his countenance again changed, "suppose my work should entirely fail—I suppose you couldn't reduce our expenses to nothing at all, could you?"

"That certainly supasses my powers," said his wife, smiling; "but even in that case there is no ground for discouragement. You have not forgotten our savings bank, have you?"

"Why no, I didn't think of that," said her husband. "I suppose that would keep off starvation for a few weeks."

His wife smiled.

"And in those few weeks," she added, "business might revive."

"To be sure," added her husband. "Well, I guess it will be all right, I will try and not trouble myself about it any longer."

The apprehensions to which Charles Lynford gave expression proved to be only too well founded. In less than a month from the date of the conversation just recorded, the limited supply of work he had been able to secure failed and he found himself without work of any kind, thrown back upon his own resources.

Although he anticipated this, it seemed unexpected when it really did come upon them.

"And the worst of it is," he added, "there will be no better time till spring."

"Do you think that the business will revive then?"

"It must by that time. But there are five or six months between. I do not know how we are going to live during that time."

"I do," his wife quietly replied.

"You," exclaimed her husband in surprise.

"Yes; your income has never been more than six or seven hundred dollars a year, and I have no doubt we can live six months on two hundred and fifty dollars."

"Yes, certainly; but where is that money to come from? I don't want to get in debt, and if I did I should not know where to borrow."

"Fortunately, there is no need of it," said Mrs. Lynford. "You seem to forget our little savings bank."

"But is it possible it can amount to two hundred and fifty dollars?" he asked in surprise.

"Yes, and six hundred more," replied his wife.

"Impossible!"

"Wait a minute, and I'll prove it."

Caroline withdrew a moment, and re-appeared with several certificates of bank and railroad shares, amounting to eight hundred dollars, and a book in which the balance was deposited to her credit.

"Are you sure you haven't had any legacy?" demanded Charles, in amazement. "Surely, a dime a day would not produce this?"

"No, but two dimes a day have, with a little extra deposit now and then. I think, Charles, that we can ward off starvation for a time."

"All this I owe to your prudence," said Charles, gratefully. "How can I repay you?"

Charles Lynford remained out of employment for some months. The next spring, as he had anticipated, business revived, and he was once more in receipt of his old income. More than two-thirds of the fund was still left, and henceforth Charles was not less assiduous than his wife in striving to increase it.

The little tin savings band still stands on the mantelpiece, and never fails to receive its deposit daily.

THE RECOGNITION OF THE SOUTH IMPOSSIBLE.—A late Paris letter contains the following important paragraph: "In all the din of domestic commotion the late manifesto of the Southern Congress has not been lost upon the Parisian observers of trans-atlantic affairs. The Opinion Nationale says of it: 'Never until now, has the government at Richmond proclaimed, in the face of the world, that the principal object of the separation was the establishment of an independent state, with slavery as the basis of its social edifice. In holding this language, the Congress at Richmond renders the recognition of the South forever impossible.'"

—The Palmetto (S. C.) Herald says: "Nothing has been done towards raising the Weehawken, and it is doubtful if any measures will ever be taken to rescue her from the shifting sands in which she lies imbedded, 30 feet below the water's surface. The task of removing such an enormous weight, at so great disadvantages, is one which neither Government nor contractors will willingly undertake. The varying currents where she sank will fix her there immovably. The Keokuk, which went down on the morning of the 8th of April last, will also probably never be brought up."

Scandal in Youngstown, Ohio--Two Women Tarred and Feathered by other Women.

From the Cleveland Herald, Wednesday.

Some eight or ten years since an iron manufacturer of Youngstown, who stood high in rank among business men, and was reported to be wealthy, suddenly disappeared, leaving his wife and family, and taking with him an unmarried woman with whom it was alleged, he had been on terms of two great intimacy. After his departure, his affairs were examined, and found to be in a hopeless confusion, his estate bankrupt and that he probably decamped with from thirty to forty thousand dollars.

The interesting pair were traced to New York, where the iron manufacturer was found to have secured a passage for himself and the woman to England. As the steamer was about leaving, he got on board, leaving the partner of his flight on shore. The steamer suddenly left the dock and set out on her voyage, fulfilling the scriptural saying that "one shall be taken and the other left." The luckless female beckoned to the departing steamer in vain, and she was compelled to return in sorrow and shame to Youngstown, where she took up her residence with her sister.

On Monday of last week a prominent lawyer of Youngstown suddenly left his home and the wife of his bosom, coming to Cleveland and going to Pittsburg. By a curious coincidence, the sister of the woman whose journey to New York some years ago had ended so unfavorably, left about the same time as the lawyer, and also went to Pittsburg, via Cleveland. Inquiries led to the disclosure of facts that warranted the belief that the lawyer and his inamorata were enacting a second edition of the adventures of the iron manufacturer and her sister.

The deserted wife, on learning the facts, picked up her household goods, and sought refuge with her parents, realizing the truth of the assertion that

Oaths are straws, men's faiths are water-cakes.

On Saturday of last week, the female fugitive, to carry out in all points the resemblance to her sister's history, suddenly returned to Youngstown, and the sisters again lived together. This was too much for the virtue of Yougstown. It was bad enough for them to carry misery into two households, but to return in triumph to the scene of the ruin they had caused, and where they might carry their mischief into other families, was too much to be borne.

So the good wives of Youngstown meditated revenge for their wrongs, past, present and prospective.

On Monday night last, whilst the erring damsels were locked in the embrace of Morpheus—that very improper person who is no respector of beds—a posse of infuriated females, with blackened faces and disguised habiliments, suddenly entered the sleeping chamber, and dragged the sleeping beauties from their couch. The clothes of the offending damsels were torn to shreds, and themselves reduced, as far as physical condition went, to the state in which Eve appeared before she learned the dressmaking business. Then they were attired in close fitting garments of tar and and feathers, and sent into the streets to startle the night-walking cats with their extraordinary appearance.

Considerable excitement exists in Youngstown about the matter, and what will be the result of the affair remains to be seen.

A Norwegian Dance.

Round the musician the young men and maidens formed a ring and began to dance. There was little talking, and that little was in an undertone. They went to work with the utmost gravity and decorum. Scarcely a laugh was heard—nothing approaching to a shout during the whole night; nevertheless, they enjoyed themselves thoroughly—I have no doubt whatever of that. The nature of their dances was somewhat incomprehensible. It seemed as if the chief object of the young men was to exhibit their agility by every species of impromptu bound and fling of which the human frame is capable, including the rather desperate feat of dashing themselves flat upon the ground. The principal care of the girls seemed to be to keep out of the way of the men and avoid being killed by a frantic kick or felled by a random blow. But the desperate features in each dance did not appear at first. Every man began by seizing his parner's hand, and dragging her around the circle—ever and anon twirling her around violently with one arm, and catching her around the waist with the other—in order as it appeared to me, to save her from an untimely end. To this treatment the fair damsels submitted with pleased, though bashful looks. But soon the men flung them off, and went it entirely on their own account; yet they kept up a sort of revolving round their partners, like satellites round their separate suns. Presently the satellites assumed some of the characteristics of the comet. They rushed about the circle in wild, erratic courses—they leaped into the air, and, while in that position, slapped the soles of their feet with both hands. Should any one deem this an easy feat, let him try it. Then they became a little more sane, and a waltz—or something like it was got up. It was really pretty, and some of the movements were graceful; but the wild spirit of the gleus re-entered, the men rather suddenly. The females were expelled from the ring altogether, and the youths braced themselves for a little really heavy work; they flung and hurled themselves about like maniacs, stood on their heads, and walked on their hands—in short, became a company of acrobats—yet always kept up a sympathetic feeling for the time with the music.

—The New Hampshire Patriot now denies that the infamous libel upon the female teachers at Hilton Head was ever published in the Patriot. The Boston Courier first gave currency to the libel as copied from the Patriot. The Eastern Argus, to which the libel has been traced, now says that it was copied from the Ohio Crisis, to which it was credited. The attempt to trace this monstrous calumny to any responsible source seems likely to fail. But those who gave it additional currency cannot evade responsibility to an outraged public opinion. We do not wonder these traducers and vilifiers of women try to shift the responsibility. It was a dirty trick unworthy of a man.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.—Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate, and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring, and beautifying the human hair, it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill, and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning grey.
It restores hair upon bald heads.

Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers. DEMAS S. BARNES & CO., Proprietors, New York.

INSURE WITH THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF WISCONSIN—IT IS THE BEST COMPANY FOR WESTERN MEN!—The reasons why this is the best Company, are: That it is a Western Company, made up of and managed by Western men, doing all or nearly all its business in the Northwest, and concentrating in this one Company a superior class of risks, mostly of young men, or men in the prime of life, and they selected with as great care in regard to eligibility to Life Insurance, as are the risks of any other company.

It is true that the Company has neither the age nor the accumulations of some eastern companies, but is gaining the latter very fast; is vigorous for one of its age; is doing a large business, having issued 637 policies in the months of December and January just passed, and is doing its business as economically as the same can be done anywhere. It has for its guide, the experience of all older companies, and among its managers some of the best business men in the northwest.

This is the first successful effort ever made to build up a similar institution in the West, and it should be the pride, as it certainly is the interest, of every business man in this section of the State, to identify himself with its growth.

This Company issues non-forfeiting policies, upon which premiums are paid in five or ten annual payments. These non-forfeiting policies are very desirable, as they guarantee to the policy holder the benefit of all the money that he pays into the Company, and also enable him to pay his premiums for the whole of life while he is young, or at an early period, thus relieving him from the burden of payment in old age. Insurance upon this plan, (as well as on all other policies that this Company issues) become due and payable at death, should death occur before the ten years expire.

It also issues the endowment policy which becomes due and payable to the party assured at a stated age specified. These latter policies are becoming quite popular, and are particularly desirable for young men.

HYATT'S IMPROVED
Knife & Scissors Sharpener!
An unequaled instrument for sharpening all kinds of
House Knives, Shears and Scissors.

This Machine is especially adapted to the wants of Houses, Hotels, Saloons and Shops.

The principle on which the machine is constructed, and the rapidity, ease and excellence of its operation, have never before been combined in an instrument to sharpen edge tools.

The Grinding wheels are made of a solid composition of emery, and hence not only grind rapidly but are very durable, and being used with water, cannot effect the temper of a blade.

The principle on which it operates—that of grinding both sides simultaneously—is an entirely new one and superior to all others, making it not only rapid in its operation, but requiring comparatively no skill in its use, and insuring a perfectly uniform edge, beveled alike on both sides, and of the best possible angle for cutting.

In sharpening Shears and Scissors each blade is necessarily ground exactly to the same bevel, and a keen, smooth cutting edge is obtained. In this respect, as well as in sharpening knives, the machine is altogether superior to anything ever brought before the public, and is certain to give complete satisfaction to all who use it.

Having the exclusive right to sell these machines in this county, I shall call upon the citizens generally to introduce it to their notice. They can also be seen at N. J. Dearborn's grocery store, corner of Milwaukee and Main streets. WM. BOOTH.

FRIDAY, APRIL 8, 1864.

An African Dinner.

W. Winwood Reade, Fellow of the Geographical and Anthropological Societies of London, has just published there a very amusing and interesting narrative of a tour on the African continent, in which he gives a remarkably rich account of a dinner at a French trading-post on the Casemanche river, in Senegambia. The cookery in this case was French; but most of the delicacies were indigenous. The first course consisted of "tree oysters;" for be it known that on the eastern coast of Africa the trees that dip their branches into the tidal waters are the roosting places of most delicious bivalves, which are torn from their coigns of vantage as we should pull chickens from the perch, and served raw on the half shell, or broiled, or boiled, as the taste of the epicure may dictate. After the semi sylvan oysters came gazelle cutlets en papillote, and two small monkeys served cross legged, on toast, with liver sauce—a dish for anthropophagi; but rather too much like barbacued babies to be relished by Christian fathers. Stowediguana—an exaggerated lizard—flanked with roasted crocodile eggs, followed; and, says our traveler, "they were much admired." The next rarity was smoked elephant from the interior, which was not admired being somewhat tougher than hammered sole-leather. On the heels of the elephant came fried locusts—which are said to have the flavor of that parliamentary fish, the English white bait—and fattened land-crabs. What the African land-crabs feed on we do not know; but everybody who has been to the West Indies is aware that they haunt the grave-yards in Jamaica and Barbadoes, and generally get very fat in yellow-fever seasons. It may be prejudice perhaps; but we prefer sea-crabs. A very especial bonne bouche was next in order—the boasts of the manatus, or sea-cow, an amphibious creature with hand-like-paws, half human face, and fleshy extremity, which is supposed to have been the mermaid of the mendacious past. Some boiled alligator, which "had a taste between pork and cod," with the addition of a patchouly flavor, was afterwards introduced, and "hippopotamus steak aux pommes de terre" closed the series of substantials.—Round Table.

BADGER!

1862! 1863! 1864!

GOOD! BETTER! BEST!

THE

BADGER DRILL!

HERETOFORE KNOWN AS

THE JESSUP DRILL!!

AS MADE BY

R. J. RICHARDSON,

is now vastly improved, and will hereafter be called the BADGER. The Badger possesses all the good qualities of the old drill, and many valuable improvements.

The feeding principle of the new Drill is the same as the old, but the working arrangement is quite different, and very much improved.

The workmanship is also much better than the old Drill. We will not claim that the Badger is better made than other Drills, but will say that it is made by experienced workmen, under my own supervision, and am willing that it should be compared with the best Drill made.

The frames are made of summer seasoned white ash, from the forests of Indiana. The poles and rolls are dried ash from Jefferson county. The hubs, and other castings, are from the reliable Rock River Iron Works of James Harris & Co. The various sizes of wrought iron are from numerous rolling mills of Pittsburgh.

THE POINTS ARE CAST STEEL,

from the celebrated Sheffield works of Singer, Nimick & Co. The fellocs are from the Ohio State Prison, located at Columbus, Ohio. The spokes are of dry white oak, from Northern Wisconsin. The chains are from Wm. Fredericks, Germany. No pains have been spared to obtain the best material—the workmanship will show for itself.

To those who know the old Drill it is only necessary to say that the Badger is like it—only better. To those who are not acquainted with the old Drill, we would say that the Badger Drill is more accurate in its feeding than any other drill introduced.

That it is lighter draft and easier for the team than any Drill yet introduced into this market.

That it will distribute any kind of grain grown in this region. That it will

Plant Corn in Rows or in Hills!

Any distance apart, from three to six feet.

That the Badger is warranted to perform, in a good and workmanlike manner, all that is required of any Drill. If, on trial, it does not perform, it can be returned to the manufacturer, and all damage will be paid to the purchaser.

In consequence of the large advance in cost of all kinds of material, the Badger must be sold at advanced prices over last year.

Prices of the Badger for 1864:

9 Tooth Drill..........$75 11 Tooth Drill..........$85
10 Tooth Drill.......... 80 12 Tooth Drill.......... 90

Five dollars added for Grass Seeder. Four horse Drills will be made to order on short notice.
Price of 17th tooth Drill and Seeder, $120.

BADGER STATE NURSERY

LOUDON & ROBINSON,

Proprietors.

Persons in want of fruit trees will find at our nursery a large stock of the following kinds:

Apple, Pear, Cherry, Peach, Apricot, Nectarines. Of small fruits: Strawberries, Raspberries, Gooseberries, Blackberries, Currants, Grapes, &c, &c.

We have a large lot of grape vines, embracing over 150 varieties, including all of the old varieties, and most of the new and rare sorts.

Of ornamental trees, shrubs and evergreens, our stock is unrivalled. It embraces Maples, Elms, Ash, Buttonwood, Willows, Horse Chestnut, Mountain Ash, Basswood, Evergreens of every variety, Snowballs, Lilies, Syringas, Dogwood, Weigelas, Roses, Flowering Almond, Spiraes, Roses, Japanese Quince, &c., &c., &c. In fact our space will not admit of an enumeration of the immense number of kinds and varieties of which our stock is composed.

Our trees and plants will be sold at greatly reduced rates, and are larger and better in every respect than those that are hawked about the country by peddlers of Eastern trees, of which one per cent. was never known to survive even the mildest Western winter.

Some portions of the nursery occupies leased land, which has to be cleared this spring. For this reason we shall offer great inducements to purchasers. Our bedding out and greenhouse plants will not be ready till about the middle of May. 301mr22d1maw3t

FRIDAY, APRIL 8, 1864.

An African Dinner.

W. Winwood Reade, Fellow of the Geographical and Anthropological Societies of London, has just published there a very amusing and interesting narrative of a tour on the African continent, in which he gives a remarkably rich account of a dinner at a French trading-post on the Casemauche river, in Senegambia. The cookery in this case was French; but most of the delicacies were indigenous. The first course consisted of "tree oysters;" for be it known that on the eastern coast of Africa the trees that dip their branches into the tidal waters are the roosting places of most delicious bivalves, which are torn from their coigns of vantage as we should pull chickens from the perch, and served raw on the half shell, or broiled, or boiled, as the taste of the epicure may dictate. After the semi sylvan oysters came gazelle cutlets en papillote, and two small monkeys served cross logged, on toast, with liver sauce—a dish for anthropophagi; but rather too much like barbacued babies to be relished by Christian fathers. Stewed iguana—an exaggerated lizard—flanked with roasted crocodile eggs, followed; and, says our traveler, "they were much admired." The next rarity was smoked elephant from the interior, which was not admired being somewhat tougher than hammered sole-leather. On the heels of the elephant came fried locusts—which are said to have the flavor of that parliamentary fish, the English white bait—and fattened land-crabs. What the African land-crabs feed on we do not know; but everybody who has been to the West Indies is aware that they haunt the grave-yards in Jamaica and Barbadoes, and generally get very fat in yellow-fever seasons. It may be prejudice perhaps; but we prefer sea-crabs. A very especial bonne bouche was next in order—the beasts of the manatus, or sea-cow, an amphibious creature with hand-like-paws, half human face, and flashy extremity, which is supposed to have been the mermaid of the mendacious past. Some boiled alligator, which "had a taste between pork and cod," with the addition of a patchouly flavor, was afterwards introduced, and "hippopotamus steak aux pommes de terre" closed the series of substantials.—Round Table.

BADGER!

1862! 1863! 1864!

GOOD! BETTER! BEST!

THE

BADGER DRILL!

HERETOFORE KNOWN AS

THE JESSUP DRILL!!

AS MADE BY

R. J. RICHARDSON,

is now vastly improved, and will hereafter be called the BADGER. The Badger possesses all the good qualities of the old drill, and many valuable improvements.

The feeding principle of the new Drill is the same as the old, but the working arrangement is quite different, and very much improved.

The workmanship is also much better than the old Drill. We will not claim that the Badger is better made than other Drills, but will say that it is made by experienced workmen, under my own supervision, and am willing that it should be compared with the best Drill made.

The frames are made of summer seasoned white ash, from the forests of Indiana. The poles and rolls are dried ash from Jefferson county. The hubs, and other castings, are from the reliable Rock River Iron Works of James Harris & Co. The various sizes of wrought iron are from numerous rolling mills of Pittsburgh.

THE POINTS ARE CAST STEEL,

from the celebrated Sheffield works of Singer, Nimick & Co. The felloes are from the Ohio State Prison, located at Columbus, Ohio. The spokes are of dry white oak, from Northern Wisconsin. The chains are from Wm. Fredericks, Germany. No pains have been spared to obtain the best material—the workmanship will show for itself.

To those who know the old Drill it is only necessary to say that the Badger is like it—only better. To those who are not acquainted with the old Drill, we would say that the Badger Drill is more accurate in its feeding than any other drill introduced.

That it is lighter draft and easier for the team than any Drill yet introduced into this market.

That it will distribute any kind of grain grown in this region. That it will

Plant Corn in Rows or in Hills!

Any distance apart, from three to six feet.

That the Badger is warranted to perform, in a good and workmanlike manner, all that is required of any Drill. If, on trial, it does not perform, it can be returned to the manufacturer, and all damage will be paid to the purchaser.

In consequence of the large advance in cost of all kinds of material, the Badger must be sold at advanced prices over last year.

Prices of the Badger for 1864:

9 Tooth Drill..........$75 11 Tooth Drill..........$85
10 Tooth Drill.......... 80 12 Tooth Drill.......... 90

Five dollars added for Grass Seeder. Four horse Drills will be made to order on short notice.

Price of 17th tooth Drill and Seeder, $120.

BADGER STATE NURSERY,

LOUDON & ROBINSON,

Proprietors.

Persons in want of fruit trees will find at our nursery a large stock of the following kinds:

Apple, Pear, Cherry, Peach, Apricot, Nectarines.

Of small fruits: Strawberries, Raspberries, Goose berries, Blackberries, Currants, Grapes, &c., &c.

We have a large lot of grapevines, embracing over 150 varieties, including all of the old varieties, and most of the new and rare sorts.

Of ornamental trees, shrubs and evergreens, our stock is unrivalled. It embraces Maples, Elms, Ash, Buttonwood, Willows, Horse Chestnut, Mountain Ash, Basswood, Evergreens of every variety, Snowballs, Lilacs, Syringas, Dogwood, Weigelas, Roses, Flowering Almond, Spireas, Roses, Japanese Quince, &c., &c., &c. In fact our space will not admit of an enumeration of the immense number of kinds and varieties of which our stock is composed.

Our trees and plants will be sold at greatly reduced rates, and are larger and better in every respect than those that are hawked about the country by peddlers of Eastern trees, of which one per cent. was never known to survive even the mildest Western winter.

Some portions of the nursery occupies leased land, which has to be cleared this spring. For this reason we shall offer great inducements to purchasers. Our bedding out and greenhouse plants will not be ready till about the middle of May. 301mr22d1maw3t

DISEASES OF THE EYE AND EAR!

DR. GARDNER,

Graduate of the London, England, Opthalmic Infirmary,

OCULIST AND AURIST!

Operator on the Eye and Ear, respectfully informs the citizens of JANESVILLE AND VICINITY, that he will visit Janesville one week, commencing on

Monday, April 11, until Saturday, 16th,

Office at the Hyatt House. After that time will visit Janesville as occasion may require, and can be consulted daily from 9 A. M. to 1 P. M., and from 2 to 6 P. M., on Deafness and Noise in the Head, Catarrh, Impaired Sight, and all the diseases of the Eye and Ear. Artificial Eyes inserted without pain, and perfectly resembling the natural eye. Operations for Cataract, Strabismus or Cross Eye, Artificial Pupil, &c., skillfully performed.

Deafness, Noises in the Ear, Running from the Ear, Scales in the Ear, Accumulation of Wax in Ear, Polypus in the Ear, in fact, every disease of the Eye and Ear treated, and every operation in Aural or Opthalmic Surgery performed by Dr. Gardner.

Read the Following Statement.

I certify that I have been afflicted for two years with granular inflammation of the eyes. I have been under the care of several physicians, but they did not afford me any relief. At times I suffered so with pain that I could not sleep. I called on Dr. Gardner two weeks ago, and have been under his treatment since. I am now happy to say that I can use my eyes for the usual purposes, seemingly, as well as ever. The pain has entirely left me. MISS ADELIA WALTERS, Milwaukee.

This certifies that my daughter has suffered from a discharge from both ears, accompanied by deafness, caused by scarlet fever when she was three years old. Having subjected her to the treatment of Dr. Gardner, I am happy to say that the discharges have entirely ceased and her hearing is restored.

M. J. BABCOCK, Division Street, Milwaukee.

Miss Margaret Oden has been afflicted with inflammation of eyes for the last seven years, so that she could hardly distinguish light in all that time, and was unable to read or do any work. At times her eyes were so painful that she could not sleep. She has been under the treatment of several physicians who did not give her any relief. She called on Dr. Gardner two weeks ago, and now she is entirely cured. We feel justified in speaking of the above case, not with a desire of puffing Dr. Gardner, but for the benefit of those who are similarly afflicted.—Milwaukee Daily Sentinel, March 9th, 1864.

Dr. Gardner still continues to receive a number of patients daily, who are suffering from diseases of the eye and ear. We know of several cases he has cured of blindness and deafness, which seemed almost miraculous. It is evident the Doctor understands his speciality. The afflicted should not delay to avail themselves of his skill. He does not take cases unless there are some hopes of a cure being effected.—Daily Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

Dr. Gardner's treatment of the eye and ear is wonderful.—Daily News, Milwaukee.

WALKER HOUSE, Milwaukee, Feb. 21, '64.

DR. GARDNER:—Dear Sir: Having been afflicted with deafness for ten years in my left ear, and having noticed your advertisement in the Milwaukee papers, I was induced to pay you a visit. No one can imagine, my delight, when, after two operations my hearing was suddenly and without pain restored to me, for which I feel grateful. After being almost shut out from the pleasure of using so necessary a sense, to have returned, and to hear distinctly with both ears, reflects great credit on you for the skill you possess. I beg to thank you publicly for what I can so truly appreciate. I am, dear sir, yours respectfully,

OTO. S. MAWSON.

We know the case of Mr. Mawson to be strictly true. H. FARWELL & BRO.

GOTTSCHALK ON KNABE.

[Translated from the French.]

After having played on the Piano of Messrs Knabe & Co., it is impossible not to bear testimony to their qualities, which have acquired for them the eminent reputation which they enjoy. The Pianos of their manufacture, on which I have played, are exceedingly remarkable for their qualities. The bass is powerful without harshness, and the upper notes sweet, clear and tremendously mellow, (chrystalline,) and I do not hesitate to express in regard to these instruments my entire satisfaction, and to declare that they are equal if not superior to the best manufactured in Europe or this country by the most celebrated makers.

FARMERS, TAKE NOTICE!

The undersigned has having made at Beloit, Wis., one hundred of those Reapers known as the Cheap, or Webber Reaper!

Notwithstanding the increase of nearly double in price over other years of all material put in Reapers, we are going to sell for 1864 at about the same prices as before. Our prices at the shop are $100 cash for single Reaper, for Reaper and Mower $140. We are making Fifty Mowers which will be worked double and to go light. They will be made of steel bars of the Buckeye pattern, except the hinge.

Those buying Reapers alone can have Mowers the next year or thereafter for the same price, as the difference between reaper and mower.

We do not deem it necessary to extol our Reaper, for it is already known to be the only two horse Reaper in use. Notwithstanding a great many are used with two horses, they only let it use three or four, and some of them six, to be easy to the horse as others are to two ordinary horses.

Please send in your orders early as to the size of a machine, as we intend to make one hundred of them will be built, and we will warrant each and every one mine to Work Well in all Kinds of Weather!

The Reels will be different from last year. They will be the over hanging reel, and have six bats instead of four keeping the reel, holding the grain to the sickle steady.

The Cut will be shipped to any depot in Wisconsin or Illinois. Ten per cent will be held if sold on time one half the 1st of September, 1864, the balance the 1st of September, 1865.

Those buying machines will confer a favor by giving this machine publicity in their respective neighborhoods. When the world gets to its usual stage we intend to make it a ninety dollar machine, and should have done it but for the unprecedented high prices of everything to construct machines with.

The Reaper Shop at Afton!

will attend strictly to the repairing of the Webber Reaper. None others wanted. We are prepared to change from chain to belt, put on a cutter who is up on short notice. Men will be on hand to repair promptly. Charges light as the loss of material will admit. We shall manufacture none at that place, consequently we will be prepared to repair. Work solicited. All orders should be directed to

DISEASES OF THE EYE AND EAR!

DR. GARDNER,

Graduate of the London, England, Opthalmic Infirmary,

OCULIST AND AURIST!

Operator on the Eye and Ear, respectfully informs the citizens of JANESVILLE AND VICINITY, that he will visit Janesville one week, commencing on

Monday, April 11, until Saturday, 16th,

Office at the Hyatt House. After that time will visit Janesville as occasion may require, and can be consulted daily from 9 A. M. to 1 P. M., and from 2 to 6 P. M., on Deafness and Noise in the Head, Catarrh, impaired Sight, and all the diseases of the Eye and Ear. Artificial Eyes inserted without pain, and perfectly resembling the natural eye. Operations for Cataract, Strabismus or Cross Eye, Artificial Pupil, &c., skillfully performed.

Deafness, Noises in the Ear, Running from the Ear, Scales in the Ear, Accumulation of Wax in Ear, Polypus in the Ear, in fact, every disease of the Eye and Ear treated, and every operation in Aural or Opthalmic Surgery performed by Dr. Gardner.

Read the Following Statement.

I certify that I have been afflicted for two years with granular inflammation of the eyes. I have been under the care of several physicians, but they did not afford me any relief. At times I suffered so with pain that I could not sleep. I called on Dr. Gardner two weeks ago, and have been under his treatment since. I am now happy to say that I can use my eyes for the usual purposes, seemingly, as well as ever. The pain has entirely left me. MISS ADELIA WALTERS, Milwaukee.

This certifies that my daughter has suffered from a discharge from both ears, accompanied by deafness, caused by scarlet fever when she was three years old. Having subjected her to the treatment of Dr. Gardner, I am happy to say that the discharges have entirely ceased and her hearing is restored. M. J. BABCOCK, Division Street, Milwaukee.

Miss Margaret Odes has been afflicted with inflammation of eyes for the last seven years, so that she could hardly distinguish light in all that time, and was unable to read or do any work. At times her eyes were so painful that she could not sleep. She has been under the treatment of several physicians who did not give her any relief. She called on Dr. Gardner two weeks ago, and now she is entirely cured. We feel justified in speaking of the above case, not with a desire of puffing Dr. Gardner, but for the benefit of those who are similarly afflicted.—Milwaukee Daily Sentinel, March 9th, 1864.

Dr. Gardner still continues to receive a number of patients daily, who are suffering from diseases of the eye and ear. We know of several cases he has cured of blindness and deafness, which seemed almost miraculous. It is evident the Doctor understands his speciality. The afflicted should not delay to avail themselves of his skill. He does not take cases unless there are some hopes of a cure being effected.—Daily Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

Dr. Gardner's treatment of the eye and ear is wonderful.—Daily News, Milwaukee.

WALKER HOUSE, Milwaukee, Feb. 24, '64.

DR. GARDNER:—Dear Sir: Having been afflicted with deafness for ten years in my left ear, and having noticed your advertisement in the Milwaukee papers, I was induced to pay you a visit. No one can imagine my delight, when, after two operations my hearing was suddenly and without pain restored to me, for which I feel grateful. After being almost shut out from the pleasure of using so necessary a sense, to have returned, and to hear distinctly with both ears, reflects great credit on you for the skill you possess. I beg to thank you publicly for what I can so truly appreciate. I am, dear sir, yours respectfully, GEO. S. MAWSON.

We know the case of Mr. Mawson to be strictly true. H. FRIEND & BROS.

GOTTSCHALK ON KNABE.

[Translated from the French.]

After having played on the Piano of Messrs. Knabe & Co., it is impossible not to bear testimony to their qualities, which have acquired for them the eminent reputation which they enjoy. The Pianos of their manufacture, on which I have played, are exceedingly remarkable for their qualities. The bass is powerful without harshness, and the upper notes sweet, clear and harmoniously mellow, (chrystaline,) and I do not hesitate to express in regard to these instruments my entire satisfaction, and to declare that they are equal if not superior to the best manufactured in Europe or this country by the most celebrated makers. Signed, L. M. GOTTSCHALK.

We would call the attention of all lovers of music to a new instrument which we have just received called the

FARMERS, TAKE NOTICE!

The undersigned are having made, at Beloit, Wis., one hundred of those Reapers known as the Cheap, or Webber Reaper!

Notwithstanding the increase of nearly double in price over other years of all materials put in Reapers, we are going to sell for 1864 at about the same prices as before. Our prices at the shop are $100 cash for single Reaper, for Reaper and Mower $140. We are making Fifty Mowers, which will be warranted to do good work. They will be made of steel bars of the Buckeye pattern, except the hinges.

Those buying Reapers alone can have Mowers the next year or thereafter for the same price, as the difference between reaper and mower.

We do not deem it necessary to extol our Reaper, for it is already known to be the only two-horse Reaper in use. Notwithstanding a great many are used with two horses, they ought to use three or four, and some of them six, to be as easy to the horse as ours are to two ordinary horses.

Please send in your orders early to be sure of a machine, as positively only one hundred of them will be built, and we will warrant each and every machine to Work Well in all Kinds of Weather!

The Reels will be different from last year. They will be the over hanging reel, and have six bats instead of four keeping the reel, holding the grain to the sickle steady.

They will be shipped to any depot in Wisconsin or Illinois. Ten per cent. will be added if sold on time. One half the 1st of September, 1864, the balance the 1st of September, 1865.

Those buying machines will confer a favor by giving this machine publicity in their respective neighborhoods. When material gets to its usual stage we intend to make it a ninety dollar machine, and should have done it but for the unprecedented high prices of everything to construct machines with.

will attend strictly to the repairing of the Webber Reaper. None others wanted. We are prepared to change from chain to belt, put on castor wheels upon short notice. Men will be on hand to repair promptly. Charges light as the loss of material will admit. We shall manufacture none at that place, consequently we will be prepared to repair. Work solicited. All orders should be directed to CHURCH, WEBBER & CO., 365ap5d1maw3m Afton, Rock Co., Wis.

AUCTION & INTELLIGENCE OFFICE.—Mr. GEORGE GRAHAM begs to inform the citizens of Rock and adjoining counties, that he has taken United States license for auctioneer, and will pay particular attention to the sale of Real Estate, Farming Stock, Household Goods, and General Merchandise, and from several years experience, a good general knowledge of the value of all kinds of property, and moderate charges, flatters himself that he will be able to satisfy those who may intrust him with their sales.

I also intends to keep an "Intelligence Office," with full information for those in want of "situations," "employees in want of help," land or other property for private sale, farms or houses for rent, &c.
